Subject: 14th June 2025 - Join us for the London Naked Bike ride!

Date confirmed for WNBR London 2025!

Dear WNBR Supporter

Important news - we can confirm that the planned date for WNBR London is 14th June 2025.

This is the same day as the annual Trooping of the Colour, so there might be some restrictions on where we can go, but won't stop the ride from having impact and creating awareness of the reasons that we ride!

At this time, the start details have not been confirmed. We expect they will be similar to last year and we'll send out more updates before the big day. We are still keen for you to find us new private locations where the owners are happy to host a start.

A reminder that our plans can never be 100% certain. In recent years we've seen a pandemic, lockdowns, road closures, royal funerals, riots and enormous protests disrupt the streets of London. Nonetheless we're carefully planning our routes to avoid any barriers to the ride as much as possible!

Fingers crossed for a good one!

In solidarity,

The London WNBR Collective
